

Diagram Showing How Expenditure of $300,000 Would Give St. Louis Best River Dock in U. S.

The accompanying diagram shows how great an improvement in the river front facilities of St. Louis would be accomplished by the proposed expenditure of $300,000 at this time by the Board of Aldermen. The present facilities are three units of dock served by one very small warehouse. The track facilities which are necessary for the expeditious, economical transfer of freight from rail to river consist of two tracks on top of the dock, one directly behind it and in front of the warehouse so recessed that the floor of the car is on a level with the top of the dock, and one behind the warehouse. These tracks connect with the Terminal and City Belt lines.

The expenditure of $300,000 would add two units of dock, making the improved river frontage of 900 feet, permit the construction of two new large warehouses and one smaller one, and so equip the whole with freight handling machinery that the cost of loading and unloading barges would be reduced to the minimum necessary to the successful operation of a river fleet.

The expenditure would also permit the construction of storage tracks at either end of the docks with platforms between them, so increasing the freight handling capacity of the dock that even capacity business of 1,000,000 tons a year about to be created by the assignment of a new fleet of six towboats and 40 barges to river will result in no congestion.

The accompanying photograph shows one complete unit of the present dock. The other two are of similar construction as will be the additions now proposed. The Board of Aldermen will determine tomorrow whether to allow the needed appropriation. The expenditure of $300,000 would give this city the most modern river terminal in the United States.

Objects to Holy Orders and the Sacrament as Part of Church.

By the Associated Press.
WILMINGTON, Del., July 17.—The Right Rev. Frederick J. Kinsman today made public his letter to the Right Rev. Daniel S. Tuttle, presiding bishop of the House of Bishops of the Protestant Episcopal Church, resigning as bishop of the diocese of Delaware.

REPUBLICANS AGAIN WILL TRY TO PASS DAYLIGHT LAW REPEAL
Leaders in House and Senate Agree on Second Attempt to Over-ride President's Veto.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, July 17.—Republican leaders of the House, supported by party leaders in the Senate, have agreed to attempt repassage of the agricultural appropriation bill with its daylight saving repeal rider, despite the President's veto. Provisions of the daylight saving law, authorizing the Interstate Commerce Commission to fix a standard time zone, however, would not be discarded under the proposal. Chairman Haugen of the House Agricultural Committee, reintroduced the agricultural bill.

FORMER SENATOR BAILEY WILL LEAD FIGHT AGAINST PROHIBITION

AFRICAN ELEPHANT, NOZED FOR LAZINESS, TO BE OUSTED
Council Takes Steps to Rid Addo Bush Forest of Animals.

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, June 29.—The life of the famous African elephant seems to be in danger for the South African Cape Provincial Council proposes to exterminate those in the Addo Bush Forest, near Port Elizabeth. For generations past these animals have been a great nuisance to the farmers. They have damaged crops and killed several persons.

MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP OF CARS CALLED DEAD ISSUE
Witness Before Federal Electric Railroads Commission Tells of Growth of Systems.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, July 17.—Because public utilities have outgrown municipal boundaries, municipal ownership of them practically is a dead issue, the Federal Electric Railroads Commission was told today by William J. Clark, one of the pioneer street railway builders of the country. Clark said the interurban idea was growing, and that jealousy between towns and rural communities would not permit a big municipality to own an electric railway serving them all.

EMBARGO ON IMPORT FREIGHT EXPECTED AS RESULT OF STRIKE
Walk Out of Seamen Grows More Serious as New York Shipping Board Calls for Volunteers.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, July 17.—An embargo on import freight was threatened today as the strike of seamen spread. Congestion of freight on the docks has become a serious matter and an embargo on shipments for transfer to coastwise steamers is expected to be made operative at any time. The number of police assigned to guard the piers has been doubled and every precaution taken to prevent damage by fire to the vessels tied up for lack of crews.

ACTION ON $300,000 DOCK BILL POSTPONED

Not Enough Aldermen of Joint Committee Appear at Meeting to Form Quorum.

Consideration of a bill to appropriate $300,000 for the completion of municipal docks at the foot of North Market street was postponed today until next Wednesday because there were not enough members of a joint committee of the Board of Aldermen present to make a quorum.

Haste in passage of the bill is being urged by those eager to have the docks completed, and the fact that the committee was to meet to consider the measure, in order to report it favorably at the meeting of the board tomorrow, was known to the members.

There are 14 members of the joint committee. Those who failed to appear were Aldermen Barney Schwartz, Schrantz, Wiehe, Felt, William Niederhueske and Geoffrey. Aldermen Tammie, Reis, Hampe, Well, McChesney and Bergmann were there. Alderman Baur came in later, but departed before the arrival of Alderman Scholt.

Aldermen Tammie and Reis, chairman of the two committees composing the joint committee, said they were certain the bill would be favorably reported if they could get a quorum together to act on it.

Some of the Aldermen visited Comptroller Nolte, and said the work on the docks should not proceed unless the branch street sewer in that neighborhood is repaired, and Nolte said he was ready to approve an appropriation of $55,000 to repair the recent cave-in.

CHICAGO BUILDERS TO DECIDE ON STOPPING ALL WORK TODAY
Final Action on Cessation of Construction to Be Determined.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, July 17.—Final action by the Building Construction Employers’ Association on the proposed cessation of all building industry in Chicago was expected at a meeting today of representatives of all contracting organizations.

The proposed stop is one of the most drastic ever taken in the labor history of Chicago, said E. M. Craig, secretary and business manager of the Construction Employers’ Association. “But we feel it is the only thing to save the building industry.”

The action of the carpenters who, employers assert, broke their agreement and have refused to compromise on an increase in wages, was said by Mr. Craig to be the chief contributing cause of the proposed plan to cease work.

It is contended by the builders that the carpenters, building laborers and bridge and structural iron workers, who have gone on strike for higher wages, have violated their wage agreement with the contractors.

Approximately 104,900 workers will be thrown out of employment if the order to stop all work is issued. A special meeting of the board of directors of the Carpenters Craftworkers’ Association also will be held today to deal with the strike, in which the carpenters are asking $1 an hour.

HEAT KILLS 3 IN BELLEVILLE
Three deaths from heat prostration have occurred in two days in Belleville. George W. Schmidt, 71 years old, a former dry goods salesman, was the first to succumb. His death was followed by that of Thomas Herbold, 49, a miner who became ill shortly after returning home from work. The third was Mrs. Helen Kuhn, 55, the housewife, who died after a walk in her garden.

WILL TEACH AT WASHINGTON U.
Dr. Eli K. Marshall Jr. will take Pharmacology Department.
Dr. Eli K. Marshall Jr., who served as a Captain in the Medical Corps, has resigned as associate professor of pharmacology in the Johns Hopkins University to take charge of the pharmacology department of Washington University. It is not known here when Dr. Marshall will arrive in St. Louis, but he will assume his new duties at the opening of the school year in September.
Dr. Marshall is expected to receive and enlarge the pharmacology department. Since 1910 the department has been operated under an associate professor with a limited staff.

Missouri Casuals Arrive

NEW YORK, July 17.—Forty-seven casual companies were among the 1293 troops arriving here today from Marauders on the steamship Pearo. They were organized from men living in Illinois, Missouri and other states.

WARNER SAYS U. R. DIRECTORS SHOULD INCLUDE EMPLOYEES

Retiring Financial Manager Suggests That City and Public Service Commission Have Place on Board.

RESIGNS $20,000 JOB WITH COMPANY

Reaches Amicable Agreement With Receiver Rolla Wells That Office Is No Longer Necessary.

Robert Lyon Warner of 6254 Washington avenue, following the announcement of his resignation from his $20,000-a-year job as financial manager of the United Railways Co., today issued a statement in which he said that when the company is reorganized "the Board of Directors of the new corporation should include not only representatives of the security holders, but also representatives of the city, the Public Service Commission and the employees."

Warner was made financial manager of the company at the same time he was elected vice president of the company Oct. 8 last. His resignation was accepted by Receiver Wells and will become effective August 1.

Remains Vice President.
Warner will retain his title of vice president of the corporation without salary or executive authority. He will continue to live in St. Louis until he makes other business connections.

At the company's office it was said the resignation was by agreement, after conferences between Wells and Warner, who reached the amicable conclusion that in view of the existing receivership there was no further call for Warner's services as financial manager.

One of the projects suggested by Warner in newspaper interviews, upon his arrival here, was municipal ownership, under a scheme by which the city would advance the necessary money to pay off the company's obligations and would hold and operate the lines until reimbursed for this loan.

ALLIES UNLIKELY TO INTERVENE IN HUNGARY AT THE PRESENT

Strong Opposition From Labor Elements Expected to Guide Governments.

SPECIAL CABLE TO THE POST-DISPATCH.
PARIS, July 17.—The chances of allied intervention in Hungary still seem meager. Bela Kun is blocking the whole peace movement in Central Europe by interrupting traffic on the Danube and over the Hungarian railroads.

The allied Governments at present feel unable to undertake intervention because of the strong opposition from the labor element. Next Monday's general strike is directed largely against the idea of further foreign interventions. Premier Nitti has promised the Italian chamber that Italy will not interfere in Hungary. Britain and France are equally fearful and the American Government is apparently determined to avoid further entanglements in strictly European affairs for the time being.

The question therefore becomes whether the smaller neighboring anti-Bolshevik states can successfully accomplish the overthrow of the Hungarian Bolsheviks.

Abyssinians Give $5000 to Red Cross.
By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, July 17.—A donation of $5000 to the American Red Cross was made today by the Abyssinian mission before departing for Detroit, Buffalo and Niagara Falls, after presenting congratulations of their country to the United States on the victory in the war. The money is for disabled American soldiers.

128 CONGRESSMEN DENY HAVING STORE OF LIQUOR

New York World Takes Poll of 155 House Members on Charge Made by Gallivan.

WASHINGTON, July 17.—The New York World undertook to poll 155 House members yesterday on Representative Gallivan's charge that dry Congressmen had wet cellars.

Gallivan made the following statement last Monday in a speech before the House at Washington:

"There are members of this House who have stored up enough liquor to last them and their friends 20 years."

Gallivan also challenged the dry voters to enter their purchases in the Congressional Record. No takers. So the New York World yesterday offered the freedom of its columns to members of the House for the purpose of enabling them to respond to the aspersions. The results follow:

Out of 155 Congressmen questioned, 128 said they had no liquor stored in their offices or homes, and four brave fellows—Representatives Anthony of Kansas, Newton of Missouri, Ward and Pratt of New York—admitted they had a little for the 47 day. Twenty-three declined to answer. Some of these said they would not incriminate themselves. A majority of them were wet.

The drys sometimes answered with a wink, and most often a facetious remark to the effect that they would like to have "something to drink." The wets resented the poll and refused to say whether they had stored away anything or not.

Representative D. R. Anthony exhibited deep and bitter feeling against the World for asking him about his supply of liquor. "Of course I have liquor," said he. "I have always had liquor. It is no body's business and it is an impertinent question. I am not running a newspaper of the standing of the World would ask it."

Anthony is a dry in Congress. The records of the District of Columbia show that during the last year he cured liquor before Washington went dry last spring, under the Reed bone-dry amendment, he received three shipments, as his own affidavits show.

The wets are: Aswell, Baer, Barbour, Bee, Bell, Black, Bland (Ind.), Bland (Va.), Blanton, Box, Brand, Briggs, Brinson, Buchanan, Burroughs, Byrnes (S. C.), Caldwell, Cantrill, Carrow, Carter, Connally (Texas), Crisp, Cullen, Denison, Dominick, Donovan, Doughton, Dowell, Drane, Esch, Evans (Mont.), Ferris, Fess, Fitzgerald (Mass.), French, Fuller (Ill.), Garner, Godwin, Goodwin, Graham (Ill.), Harley, Harrison (Va.), Hastings, Hawley, Hayes, Herzog, Hersman, Howard, Huddleston, Hudspeth, Igoe, Ire and Jones (Texas), Junt, Kennedy (Ill.), Kitchin, Kraus, La Guardia, Lanham, Langford, Larson, Little, Lusk, Loring, McKinley, McKeown, McKinstry, McKinley, McLaughlin (Neb.), Magee, Maher, Major, Mansfield, Mondell, Montague, Moore (Va.), Morgan, Mott, Nichols (S. SALARIES OF MAIL CARRIERS AND CLERKS ARE INCREASED

Salaries of mail carriers and clerks in the St. Louis postoffice were advanced $100 per year on July 1, according to an announcement yesterday by Postmaster Selph on information from the office of the Postmaster-General.

Solph made the announcement to employees of the main postoffice who had come to his office to give him a bouquet of flowers, the day being his fiftieth birthday anniversary. The spokesman for employees said the flowers were a tribute to a man "who has devoted his years to making life easier for his fellow-men." He spoke of the presentation as a desire to "strew flowers along your pathway."

In reply Solph said that "it has always been a matter of regret to me when it became necessary to take disciplinary action in the interest of the service and it has been one of my greatest delights when I could reward you for deserving conduct and faithful service." He complimented the work of postal employees here.

NEW POST OF AMERICAN LEGION

A meeting of former service men will be held at 8 o'clock tomorrow evening at the First Regiment Armory, 220 S. Grand avenue, to form a new post of the American Legion. Capt. Hundley, Lloyd, Sugden and Kohlberg are working for this post. John S. Seibert, State Secretary, will preside.

One of the names suggested is "Sauerwein-Billsbarrow Post," in honor of the memory of Maj. Arthur Sauerwein, the first St. Louis officer killed in the Argonne, and Lieut. George Billsbarrow, the first St. Louis officer to die from wounds, he having been wounded in the Vosges Mountains.

ST. LOUIS TO OPPOSE CHANGE IN RIVER RATES

Fight Will Be Made Before Commerce Commission on Recommendations Favoring Memphis.

It was announced at the Chamber of Commerce today that a vigorous fight will be made before the Interstate Commerce Commission on the recommendations just made by William La Roe, an examiner for the commission, in connection with the freight rates between St. Louis and points in Southern Missouri and Northern Arkansas, as compared with rates between Memphis and those points.

La Roe recommends that the rates be adjusted more favorably to Memphis, giving the opinion that St. Louis has an undue advantage. The report is tentative, and may be reversed by the commission. Exceptions to it will be filed by the Chamber of Commerce, and the case will be argued before the commission at Washington Oct. 1.

Says Rates Are Prejudicial

"The Commission should find," La Roe states, "that the class rates from Memphis to points in Arkansas north of the Arkansas River are prejudicial to Memphis and in favor of St. Louis to the extent that they exceed, by more than reasonable bridge tolls, the corresponding rates from St. Louis to the same points for like distances."

A similar opinion is given with respect to interstate class rates from Memphis to stations in Missouri south of the St. Louis and San Francisco Railroad, through Mingo to Springfield. La Roe holds that there is an unjust differential in favor of St. Louis, to the extent that the Memphis rates exceed the St. Louis rates by more than reasonable bridge tolls. He points to the fact, in this connection, that wholesale grocery houses of Memphis compete with St. Louis jobbers in Southeastern Missouri. The finding is limited to Southern Missouri, he says, because there is no showing in the evidence that Memphis might reasonably expect to compete with St. Louis north of the line indicated.

Other opinions in the report are that the proposed increased class rates from St. Louis to points in Oklahoma are not justified; that the class rates from St. Louis and from points in "defined" territories to points in Southern Arkansas are unduly prejudicial to those points and unduly in favor of Pine Bluff and other competing points, and that the practice of the Missouri Pacific with respect to charges for delivery of cotton at Memphis and at East St. Louis subjects Memphis to undue disadvantage.

St. Louisian Refutes Statements

Exceptions to the report will allege that its findings do not conform to the testimony. H. R. Brashear, assistant manager of the Traffic Department of the Chamber of Commerce, said. He cited as an instance the report's reference to competition of wholesale grocers.

According to the report, Memphis jobbers stated that they could not compete in Southern Missouri with St. Louis jobbers. Their actual testimony was, Brashear said, that they did not feel the competition with St. Louis dealers, but with those of Northern Arkansas.

Brashear said that the rates on freight coming into Memphis from the Eastern seaboard are "ridiculously favorable to Memphis." That city gets lower rates than local points east of there in Tennessee, Brashear said.

PROTEST AGAINST PEACE DAY

Dublin Officials Say Irish Are at War With Britain.

DUBLIN, July 17.—All grades of officials of the city corporation have signed a memorial to the Lord Mayor of Dublin asking him not to recognize July 15, peace day, as a holiday, on the ground that "a state of war exists between the British Government and the Irish people and the latter do not desire to participate in peace celebrations."

Followers of John Redmond, who served in the British army in France, voted yesterday not to take part in the victory parade Saturday, because Viscount French, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, announced he would take the salute with other officers in London.

KING PRAISES R-34'S OFFICERS

Crowd at Palace Gates Cheers Airmen Loudly.

By the Associated Press. LONDON, July 17.—Major G. H. Scott, commander of the British dirigible R-34, and Brigadier-General F. M. Maitland, who represented the British Air Ministry on the airship's round trip flight to New York, went into Buckingham Palace to report to King George yesterday, almost unnoticed by the crowd.

When the officers left a group of photographers drew the crowd's attention to the two airmen and they were cheered loudly. King George showed much interest in the report of the two officers and conversed with them for an hour. He congratulated them heartily.

BUILDING TRADES COUNCIL VOTES TO QUIT BELL PHONES

Delegates Are Instructed to Order Their Respective Unions to Discontinue Service on Account of Strike.

POLICE, SERGEANT IS ACCUSED OF ASSAULT

Complaint of Method of Arrest of Strikers Will Be Put Before Governor and Mayor.

Delegates to the regular meeting of the Building Trades Council last night adopted a resolution to have the service on all their telephones of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. discontinued, because the company refuses to recognize the union of its striking employees, and instructed all delegates to take the same action in their respective unions.

The action was taken following an address by Miss May E. Matthews of Boston, secretary of the telephone operators' department of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, who is directing the strike.

M. J. Cassidy, secretary of the council, said the action does not mean that the company would be requested to remove the telephones, but merely to discontinue the service, which would stop the rental revenue. The company may remove them, however, Cassidy said, but must have the work done by men in good standing with the electrical workers' union.

Cassidy said there are 10,000 workmen affiliated with the Building Trades Council and he could give no estimate of how many had Bell telephones.

On complaint of Miss Matthews that Police Sergeant Stephen Collins had assaulted a girl picket and arrested other pickets without cause at the Belmont Exchange, Beaumont and Locust streets, President Charles J. Lammert of the Building Trades Council was directed to call on Gov. Gardner today and protest against Collins' conduct.

Miss Matthews, who was arrested by Collins Tuesday night and discharged in police court yesterday, will then go to Sedalia to make an address at a labor meeting and then will depart for Washington for a conference with Postmaster General Burleson in regard to the St. Louis strike of Bell Company employees.

Postmaster General Burleson yesterday notified Miss Matthews by telegram that officials of the Post-office Department would grant a hearing at Washington to a committee representing striking employees of the Bell company.

Miss Matthews had asked that a representative of the department be sent here to study the situation.

Lammert was also directed to make complaint against Sergeant Collins to Mayor Kiel and the Police Commissioners, and to complain to Postmaster General Burleson that the St. Louis strikers were not getting a fair deal.

The council re-elected all its present officers, as follows: Lammert, president; Fred W. Schulz, vice president; Cassidy, secretary; Charles T. Webster, financial secretary; Fred W. Doyle, treasurer; James P. Moran, sergeant-at-arms; and J. W. Williams, John H. Barry and Edward P. O'Neil, trustees.

It was decided to join Central Trades and Labor Union in a Labor day parade and picnic at Forest Park Highlands Sept. 1. The marshals of the parade will be next Sunday morning at Central Trades Hall, 2228 Olive street.

Shop Laborers Vote Boycott.
M. L. Moreland, vice president of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, announced today that that organization last night, at a meeting at Thirteenth street and Chouteau avenue, voted to order members to have Bell telephones removed from their homes if the company does not recognize the union of its striking employees within 10 days.

Moreland said the organization has 2500 members in St. Louis, more than 300 of whom have Bell telephones.

Mrs. Sarah Snaggon, president of the St. Louis Women's Trade Union League, is arranging a meeting of representative women associated with different women's organizations and others interested in civic and social and industrial affairs, for an open discussion of the wages and working conditions of the telephone operators. The meeting will be held at 2 p. m. tomorrow, in room 208 of the city hall.

A paper sack filled with soft mud, thrown into an automobile in which Bell telephone workers were being taken to their exchange Tuesday night, struck Mrs. Pauline Chenot, 132 Hancock avenue, St. Louis County, and splattered over her face and clothes. Mrs. Chenot is employed at the Riverside Exchange. The automobile was about a block from her home, she said, at 9 p. m., on the way to the exchange, when the sack landed on her head.

Pacific Coast Telephone Strike Believed to Be Near Settlement.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, July 17.—Agreements which are expected by postoffice department officials to bring to an end the telephone strike on the Pacific Coast were reached late yesterday at a conference between Chairman Koons of the Wire Control Board and representatives of the interested unions. Striking operators will be permitted to return to work and an increased wage scale is made effective under the agreement, which also is understood to provide that the question of retroactive pay shall be referred to the wire control board.

Removes Wrinkles and Refreshes Tired Faces

As the skin tends to expand in warm weather, causing wrinkles to form, a good astringent-tonic lotion should be used these days. It is an essence of pure powdered saxolite in a half pint of witch hazel. Bathe the face in this and see how quickly the wrinkles and furrows will disappear—and how much younger you will look! There's nothing better for sagging cheeks or double chin, or for enlarged pores.

Use this simple lotion during the heat of the day and you will find it wonderfully refreshing. You will lose that wilted look. The ingredients of course, are perfectly harmless. Be sure to ask the druggist for powdered saxolite—ADV.

THIN PEOPLE NEED BITRO- PHOSPHATE

Increases Weight, Strength and Nerve Force in Two Weeks' Time in Many Instances

Take plain bitro-phosphate is the advice of those physicians to thin, delicate, nervous people who lack vim, energy and nerve force, and there seems to be ample proof of the efficacy of this preparation to warrant the recommendation. Moreover, if we judge from the countless preparations and treatments which are continually being advertised for the purpose of making thin people fleshy, developing arms, neck and bust and restoring vigor, health and beauty, there are evidently thousands of men and women who keenly feel their excessive thinness.

Thinness and weakness are often due to starved nerves. Our bodies need more phosphate than is contained in modern foods. Physicians claim there is nothing that will supply this deficiency so well as the organic phosphate known among druggists as bitro-phosphate, which is inexpensive and is sold by most all druggists under a guarantee of satisfaction or money back. By feeding the body cells directly and by supplying the body cells

Georgia Hamilton, the wonderful "lucy" girl, who was once thin and frail, says: "Bitro-Phosphate brought about the magic transformation. I gained 15 pounds and never before felt so well."

with the necessary phosphoric food elements, bitro-phosphate should produce a welcome transformation in the appearance of the thin, delicate, nervous people. Clinical tests made in St. Catherine's Hospital, N. Y. City, showed that patients gained in weight 25 and 37 pounds, respectively, through the administration of organic phosphate; both patients claim they have not felt so strong and well for the past twelve years.

Increase in weight also carries with it a general improvement in the health. Nervousness, sleeplessness, lack of energy, which nearly always accompany excessive thinness, should soon disappear, dull eyes ought to brighten and pale cheeks glow with the bloom of perfect health.

Physicians and hospitals everywhere are now recognizing its merits by its use in ever increasing quantities. Fredrick Kelle, M. D., editor of New York Physicians' "Who's Who," says: "Bitro-Phosphate should be prescribed by every doctor and used in every hospital to increase strength and nerve force and to enrich the blood."

Joseph D. Hartigan, former visiting specialist to Northwestern Dispensary, says: "Let those who are weak, thin, nervous, anemic or run down take a natural, unadulterated substance such as bitro-phosphate, and you will soon see some astonishing results in the increase of nerve, energy, strength, body and mind and power of endurance."

Bitro-phosphate is made entirely of the organic phosphate compound referred to in the National Standard Dispensary and being an excellent tonic and nerve agent, a preparation which has recently acquired considerable reputation in the treatment of neurasthenia. The standard of excellence, strength and purity of the substance is beyond question. For every Bitro-Phosphate tablet is manufactured in strict accordance with the U. S. Pharmacopoeia test requirements.

Bitro-Phosphate is therefore not a salt medicine, and should not be confused with any of the secret nostrums, so-called tonics or widely advertised "cures." It is sold by Judge & Dolph, Enderle Drug Stores, Johnson Bros. Drug Co., Wolf-Wilson Drug Co., in St. Louis and all good druggists.

CAUTION:—Although Bitro-Phosphate is unsurpassed for relieving nervousness, sleeplessness and general weakness, owing to its tendency to increase weight, it should not be used by anyone who does not desire to put on flesh.

SERATHOL IS FINE FOR INDIGESTION SAYS DR. PARRISH

Since the publication of Dr. Edward Parrish's recommendation of ordinary Serathol for indigestion, gas, acidity and dyspepsia, it has won instant favor with scores of dyspeptic all over the country.

When you have that "big-lump-in-the-stomach" feeling or belching, gas or bad breath from an upset stomach, just take a little ordinary Serathol, wait one minute by the watch and you'll probably say what other have said: "Serathol works like magic." At any rate it is perfectly harmless, pleasant to take and can be obtained at trifling cost from Judge & Dolph, Enderle Drug Stores, Johnson Bros. Drug Co., Wolf-Wilson Drug Co., in St. Louis and all first-class druggists.—ADVERTISEMENT.

SENATOR COLT SAYS HE FAVORS LEAGUE PRINCIPLES

Rhode Island Republican Withholds Judgment on Reservations, but Says U.
S. Must Accept Covenant.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, July 16.—Announcing his support of the principles embodied in the "League of Nations" covenant, but withholding judgment regarding certain reservations, Senator Colt, Republican of Rhode Island, told the Senate today that the nation "must at least see the great undertaking upon which we have embarked in entering the war through to the end, which can only be done by our becoming a member of the league."

The Rhode Island Senator declared himself unable to agree with the objections that the league would create a super-state or subvert the American Constitution. He said, however, that the Monroe Doctrine must be clearly safeguarded and domestic questions left for national action.

"The league of nations in its essence is simply an association of free nations," he said. "The principle of international co-operation as the means by which international peace can be made secure has never been tried before. All other means of preventing war have failed. Not to try this experiment would leave the world in the same condition of international anarchy as it was before the war. There is no antagonism between the national and internationalism which would subject the reign of law for the reign of force."

"Must See It Through."

"If we believe that it would be dishonorable to withdraw from Europe at this time, to desert France, England and Italy in this critical hour when the whole world is in a turmoil, then the United States should certainly remain in the league during this world-settlement and until peace and order are restored. To my mind we must at least see the great undertaking upon which we have embarked in entering the war through to the end, and, as a part of this undertaking, we must help to re-establish a new world order by the enforcement of the terms of peace, which can only be done by our becoming a member of the league of nations."

"I believe the great mass of the American people are convinced that something must be done to prevent future wars. They want something done. They do not want to leave the world in its old condition, and they favor the league of nations, based upon international co-operation, as the best solution of the problem. I am in favor of the principles embodied in the league of nations. This does not mean that I have reached a decision that the league should be ratified in the precise form in which it is now presented."

"There has been much controversy over the question whether the league should not be separated from the peace treaty. I have always believed the league to be inseparable from the peace treaty because the treaty cannot be enforced except through the league. The peace treaty leaves the world on fire, with national aspirations unsatisfied, territorial limitations undefined, racial conflicts impending, and with incipient wars already started. If it is unthinkable for us to desert England, France and Italy when the world is in chaos, we must become a member of the league as providing the only machinery for the restoration of peace and order."

Not a Super State.

"The provisions of the league with respect to arbitration or investigation and report have been criticized as not strong enough, but they clearly will tend to prevent war. As to the general objection that the league creates a super-state and hence is destructive of our independence and sovereignty I am unable to see the force of the arguments in support of this proposition. A super state cannot be formed without every material power that is exercised by the league requires the unanimous consent of the Executive Council or of the delegates."

"Nor am I impressed with the constitutional objections. The treaty-making power under the Constitution is of the broadest character and it includes everything that is properly covered by the term treaty and is not in conflict with some express provision of the Constitution."

"I believe the popular sentiment is universal and I certainly share it, that the Monroe Doctrine should be clearly safeguarded. I also believe that domestic questions, like immigration, in some of their aspects may be international should be properly safeguarded."

Necessity for Article 10.

"The storm center of these reservations seems to be the Article 10. As to the retention of this article much may be said on both sides. It may be argued that the United States ought not to bind itself for all time to guarantee the territorial integrity and political independence of the members of the league against external aggression and yet that argument might not apply with the same force to protecting the territorial settlements made by the peace conference until this new world order is fully established and the present peace of the world made secure. There is a wide distinction between a temporary and a permanent retention of Article 10."

"Upon the question of reservations I reserve my judgment for a full discussion and consideration."

The Secretary of the Interior has issued the following invitation to the American people to visit the National Parks and National Monuments.

To the American People:

Uncle Sam asks you to be his guest. He has prepared for you the choice places of this continent—places of grandeur, beauty and of wonder. He has built roads through the deep-cut canyons and beside happy streams, which will carry you into these places in comfort, and has provided lodgings and food in the most distant and inaccessible places that you might enjoy yourself and realize as little as possible the rigors of the pioneer traveler's life. These are for you. They are the playgrounds of the people. To see them is to make more hearty your affection and admiration for America.

Walter H. Henshaw
Secretary of the Interior

An interesting entertainment for the benefit of the Post-Dispatch Pure Milk and Free Ice Fund will be given this evening by the elocution class of Mrs. Carrie Hirsch, 5905 Garfield avenue, at 7 o'clock. A large advance sale of tickets has been reported, and the children are enthusiastic in their work for the babies.

Two groups of children reported lemonade stands for the benefit of the fund yesterday. Theresa Carter, 1124 Walton avenue, and Theresa Conant, 769 Walton avenue, conducted a stand at Delmar and Walton avenues, and earned $4.37, and David and Robert Oberbeck, 234 North Newstead avenue, assisted by Edwin Roberts, 4448 McPherson, conducted one at Newstead and McPherson avenues, which netted $1.15.

One of the many 8-year-old friends of the fund, F. L. Achilles Jr., forwarded 65 cents to help the babies during the hot days. The employees of the E. W. Magee Mfg. Co., sent $4. "Six Little Kiddies" gave $10, and Rosemary and Miss J. H. contributed $2 and $1, respectively. Billy Whitten, Lester Herschstein and Champlin Lindley, whose report of $2.31 was acknowledged in yesterday's Post-Dispatch, state that this amount was earned by giving a show at 5780 De Giverville avenue.

FLORISSANT MAN CONFESSES HE STOLE FOUR AUTOMOBILES

Tells Clayton Authorities He Sold One Car to a Sheriff in Indiana.

Andrew Overly, 25 years old, of Florissant, confessed to Sheriff Bopp at Clayton today that he stole four automobiles in the last six weeks and that he sold one of them to a sheriff in Indiana and the others to dealers in Hamilton, O.

Overly and Henry Ronsick, also of Florissant, were arrested at Greenville, Ill., and brought back on a requisition. In his confession Overly said the first car he stole was the property of St. Stanislaus Seminary near Florissant. He and Ronsick drove to Hamilton, O., in this machine. Later, he said, he stole two more cars in the county and one at Forest Park Highlands. Ronsick admitted accompanying Overly to Hamilton, O., and other places, but said he did not know the automobiles they traveled in were stolen.

GUARD UNIT DESIRES RECRUITS

A vigorous recruiting campaign is being conducted by the First Regiment, Missouri National Guard, for the number of men required for muster into Federal service, July 29. The regiment of the guards will be mustered into State service July 22, but to be Federalized a regiment must contain at least one full battalion of four companies of 25 men each.

For the Federal muster the men of all companies will be gathered into one composite battalion and afterward will return to their respective units.

Maj. N. B. Comfort reports that the ranks are rapidly filling. The recruiting office is 600 Olive street. Each man has been asked to bring at least one recruit to be mustered in next Tuesday.

HELD AS MOSELEY'S ASSAILANT

Prisoner is Accused of Shooting Creve Coeur Man From Auto.
Henry Carr, 24 years old, of 1505 Warren street, was arrested at Clayton today in connection with the shooting of Eugene Mosley of Creve Coeur, who was wounded by a bullet fired from a passing automobile while on the porch of his father-in-law's home at St. Charles and McKelvey roads, last Wednesday afternoon.

Armin A. Ellerbrake, 24 years old, of 2719 North Nineteenth street, was arrested in St. Louis yesterday. Both deny knowledge of the shooting. Warrants charging them with assault to kill have been issued.

MEXICO SEEKS TO BUY MUNITIONS IN UNITED STATES

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, July 17.—Ambassador Bonillas of Mexico, in conference at the State Department today with Acting Secretary Polk and Henry P. Fletcher, American Ambassador to Mexico, renewed his request for permission to purchase airplanes and munitions in this country for the Mexican government. He said after the conference he believed his request would be granted.

POLE TO MEET LANSING IN NEW YORK

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, July 17.—Under-Secretary Polk of the State Department announced today he would depart tomorrow for New York, where he will confer with Secretary Lansing before sailing for Paris to take Mr. Lansing's place as head of the American peace delegation. Mr. Lansing is expected to arrive in New York Saturday.

BURGULARS KNOCK WOMEN DOWN IN MAKING ESCAPES

Four Are Injured by Prowlers Detected in Act of Robbing

Four women were injured by burglars whom they caught robbing their homes yesterday afternoon and evening.
Mrs. Maud Derlein and Mrs. Martha Biehler of 4256 Maryland avenue, returning to their apartment at 4:45 p. m., opened the front door and saw two negroes ransacking the place. As they stepped into the room and demanded to know why the negroes were there, one of the men threw a chair at Mrs. Biehler and the other threw a vase at Mrs. Derlein. Both women screamed. The negroes jumped through a screened window on the first floor and escaped with jewelry valued at $150.

Mrs. Anna Tiernan, 3131A North Broadway, hearing a noise in the kitchen of her home at 11 p. m., found a burglar with silverware and other articles ready to carry away. When she attempted to capture the intruder he knocked her down and escaped. Mrs. Tiernan suffered two scalp wounds. The burglar took $5.

Mrs. Jennie Fine, 35 years old, 1129 North Eleventh street, returning to her home at 5 p. m., discovered the kitchen door lock had been forced and inside saw a negro burglar at work. She stepped into the doorway and blocked the negro's path of escape. He called to her to stand aside, and when she refused he knocked her down with a revolver. As he fled through the door Mrs. Fine's screams attracted several neighbors, who chased the negro to Twelfth and O'Fallon streets, where he jumped on a peddler's wagon and escaped. The negro took $30 worth of trinkets.

At the apartment of Mrs. Bertha Allen, 3862 Botanical avenue, a burglar obtained $225 worth of jewelry and clothing. Burglars in the home of Claude B. Jackson, 1508 Kennett place, stole $250 in cash and $200 worth of jewelry and clothing.

Gen. Pershing to Return in August.
By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, July 17.—General Pershing will return to the United States in August. Representative Caldwell, Democrat, New York, told the House rules committee today, urging early action on his resolution setting aside a day for a joint congressional session to welcome home the American commander. Action was deferred by the rules committee.

$826 STOLEN WITH SHIRT IS RECOVERED IN SALOON

Garment With Many a Pocket Is Found on Top of Bar Room Icebox.

A shirt, in the pocket of which was $826 stolen Tuesday, from Dionisios Georgios, 210 South Sixth street, was recovered by Detective Conkey and Griffin at 5 p. m. yesterday. It was wrapped in a newspaper and enclosed in a cigar box on top of an ice box in a saloon at 526 Clark avenue.

The money represented the greater part of Georgios' savings of $1000 with which he expected to start for Greece early in the week. The shirt was stolen from a bed in his room while he was on another floor.

The detectives arrested another roamer in the house. He persisted in his innocence until yesterday, when he finally admitted having "picked up" a shirt on the floor. He told of having tossed it on top of the ice box in the saloon.

The saloon keeper told the detectives that the man had told him, when asking permission to leave the package there for a few days, that it contained soiled laundry.

Georgios wept with joy when the money was restored to him and in his exultation asked for the immediate release of the prisoner.

During the first six months of 1919 the Post-Dispatch printed 29,820 Automobile "Wants"—42,777 more than the FOUR other St. Louis newspapers combined.

The High Signs of Orlando

Censored! Whoa! That was close! The Publicity Committee of the Order of Orlando almost exposed the greatest secret High Sign of the Brotherhood—a signal of such stupendous importance to all smokers that only the Supreme Council of the Vanishing Vapor knows anything about it.

But the Exalted Censor (the Prince of the Prints) scented it in time—and it remains a secret which every smoker must learn for himself. How? Why, Friend, by joining the society to which so many secrets are clear—that mystic Brotherhood of smokers, the Order of Orlando.

Orlando The Sign of a Good Cigar

There are certain secrets about Orlando that you see with your first soul-satisfying puff. Its rare mellow bouquet is delightfully obvious—its mildness, its charm and its character are all conspicuous features. Then, too, there's the price of Orlando—really remarkable, when you come to think of it!

All these are mighty good reasons for joining the Order and smoking Orlando—they're secrets which common sense will solve. But there's one mystery that can never be revealed—one secret which no one can fathom. It is the real secret of Orlando's goodness—and it's guarded by Nature herself!

Media Perfecto Size, 10c Box of 25, $2.50—50, $5.00

Orlando comes in ten sizes—10c to 15c. Little Orlando 6c. Ten sizes enable us to use a fine grade of tobacco without waste—the secret of high quality at low prices.

Orlando is sold only in United Cigar Stores—"Thank you!"

I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles, that it will always fight for progress and reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight demagogues of all parties, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare, never be satisfied with merely printing news, always be drastically independent; never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

More About Coal.
 To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

Just a few words in reply to the letter of C. R. Paine entitled "Price and Quality of Coal."

The average household consumer, instead of consulting with some reliable, reputable coal dealer who would advise him as to the best size and quality of fuel required for his particular needs, generally places the order with someone who is soliciting his or her business with the sole purpose in view of getting the order and collecting for same without any further thought of whether he sold him the right size or quality of fuel for his particular furnace.

Large industrial plants and corporations have learned that it is real economy to purchase their coal according to size and quality and amount of heat derived to give the most efficiency. Household and domestic consumers are also learning that the only real economy is to purchase the coal which will give them the desired results.

The average household consumer each year makes the same fatal mistake of waiting until the snow flies to place their order for fuel, which creates a tremendous demand for fuel right at the time when railroad and traffic conditions are the worst congested, quite naturally as with everything else—when an article is scarce the prices generally soar. The household could avoid this by laying in his supply early in the year and avoid this unnecessary twelfth hour rush and its consequences.

The Sunday Magazine of the Post-Dispatch on page two sets forth facts and figures that during June 136 miners within 25 miles of St. Louis mined through the Illinois Coal Company at 231 North Seventh street on their way to their native country and the figures are constantly climbing. Just yesterday I was speaking to a gentleman from the Illinois coal fields who informed me that over 300 men had left the mines bound for their native homes.

Unless the coal consumer learns to place his coal in his cellar early and avoid the traffic congestion, which is bound to come with the movement of grain to the seaports it is very evident that he is only making himself the goat.

A Bumpy Car Track.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

I would like to call the attention of the U. R. company to the condition of the northbound track on Union avenue, north of Wells avenue. There seems to be a depression or something the matter with the track, for every car passing over this particular point will "bumpy-bump" making an awful noise, and if the U. R. Company would let me that this nerve-racking matter was attended to, it would certainly be appreciated by the residents in that neighborhood.

CITIZEN.

Class Legislation.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

I was exceedingly glad to learn that the Supreme Court of Missouri, in an opinion of far-reaching significance, held that newspapers can be sued for libel only where they are published. This is a just decision. In reading this important decision I find that section 1755, R. S. 1919, is "void" in that it contains an "equality" and makes "classification" bearing no reasonable, just or proper relation to the classification made.

This makes me think of the "war-time" prohibition law or act and its "injustice" at this time. On July 1 the country went under the operation of war-time prohibition, enacted 10 days after the "armistice" on the false pretense of "increase efficiency in the production of arms, munitions, ships, food and clothing for the army and navy," with the date for it to take effect fixed seven months and nine days after the war had been won and hostilities had ceased. Although urged and done by President Wilson in a message to that body on May 20, Congress has refused to undo the "fraud," although, in the meantime, the "armistice" has been superseded by a formal treaty of peace.

Now, under the American form of Government, "class legislation" is supposed to be taboo, but in effect that is what the House Judiciary Committee proposes to enact in its prohibition enforcement bill. As the measure is drafted, it permits the unlimited storage of alcoholic beverages for private use. This means that the wealthy class can stock up for the dry days to come, and, in the knowledge that their cellars are full, the specter of thirst will not "haunt" their waking hours. But the citizen of average means and the workman who live from day to day must be deprived of his favorite drink from the day prohibition becomes effective. His slender means did not permit him to provide for future necessities. This smacks of rank injustice and "inequality" and makes a "classification" or "class legislation" sort of a prohibition enforcement law.

GEORGE A. RITTER.

SHANTUNG AND THE LEAGUE.

Some of the Senators who oppose the League of Nations are so bitter in their animosity towards the President and his peace work and are so lost to a judicious sense of fitness in debating the peace treaty that they are willing to endanger peace with a friendly nation to accomplish their ends. Japan was coarsely attacked and Senator Borah even threatened her with war on account of the Shantung agreement.

Think, after the horrors of the past four years and after our sacrifices to put an end to war, of an American Senator threatening a neighboring friendly nation with war because the peace treaty recognizes that nation's claim to concessions and privileges in a Chinese province, which were taken from Germany!

We have not gone to war when worse conditions than those insisted upon by Japan were imposed upon China. We did not go to war with Germany when she seized Klauchau and forced the grant of Shantung concessions. Before we entered the war Japan had driven Germany out of her Chinese stronghold and had seized all German property and concessions there. Her claims were admitted by her allies and China had agreed to the transfer of the concessions by Germany. The whole arrangement was settled before we went to war.

Of course, no American likes the Shantung agreement. We do not believe in any kind of exploitation of one nation by another. We would prefer to have the treaty free from the shadow of any advantage gained through force by one nation over another. But the thing was not of our doing and China is better off than before. Japan has promised to return to China the territory held by Germany and merely to use specified economic privileges for a limited term of years.

Since Japan insisted upon these claims as compensation for her military efforts and sacrifices, and in accord with agreements, it was better to let them go than to break up the peace conference and wreck all plans for the abandonment of similar conditions in the future and for guarantees of peace. China gains something and mankind gains tremendous advantage by the completion of the treaty and the organization of the League of Nations, which is a guarantee that no nation will ever again attempt the conquest or exploitation of another.

If Senator Borah and his associates are so bitterly opposed to the Shantung affair, why do they not accept the League of Nations, which is organized to prevent the recurrence of such things? Why do they not approve article 10 of the peace covenant, in which the nations give solemn pledge to refrain from attacking the political independence and territorial integrity of any nation and to protect all nations against external aggression? This is the point of their protests.

This would be better than going to war over a Chinese province. It would be better than our attempting to right all wrongs in all parts of the world by force of our own protest or our own might.

Any old excuse seems to be good enough to supply fuel for the insensate fury of the extreme opponents of the League. The Shantung attack is about the worst. Whatever force there is in their arguments supports the League of Nations which offers peaceful and reasonable means of wiping out this remnant of the rule of greed and force and of preventing any repetition of its kind.

COMPLETE THE MUNICIPAL DOCKS.

The very appearance of the municipal dock shows the need for an additional appropriation. Work on it was pushed to provide the most necessary facilities in time for the start of the barge line, but much remains to be done to give it worthiness as one of the permanent improvements of our water front.

But, of course, the chief reason for the $300,000 the Aldermen will be asked to grant tomorrow is the need for greater facilities. The existing warehouse is built on temporary foundations and is so small that one barge-load of freight will fill it. Three much larger warehouses are required, one for export and two for domestic shipments. The dock must be extended 350 feet and the additional machinery provided to permit four or more barges to be loaded at one time. Now it is inconvenient, with present machinery, to load more than one barge.

With the additional money it will be made one of the most important of all St. Louis utilities and an ornament to the river front of which St. Louisans will be proud.

"WHY IS A SENATOR?"

On the witness stand in his libel suit Henry Ford said that he regarded history as "bunk." If he had some of this "bunk" in his mental bunker he would not have confused Benedict Arnold with a modern writer of best sellers. He would have known something about Maj. Andre.

Obviously the historical corner is not the only vacancy in the Ford think tank. "Ballyho," a word used by the writer of his utterances on war and peace, he said, meant blackguard.

His definition of an idealist as "one who helps others to make a profit" indicates that Mr. Ford thinks in terms of material wealth, rather than spiritual riches. He knows all about profit, but admits that he is blind to art and deaf to music.

In Mr. Ford's view all professional soldiers and advocates of "overpreparedness" are murderers and all who do any kind of war work are murderers' helpers.

Yet Mr. Ford retracted his admission that he is "an ignorant idealist."

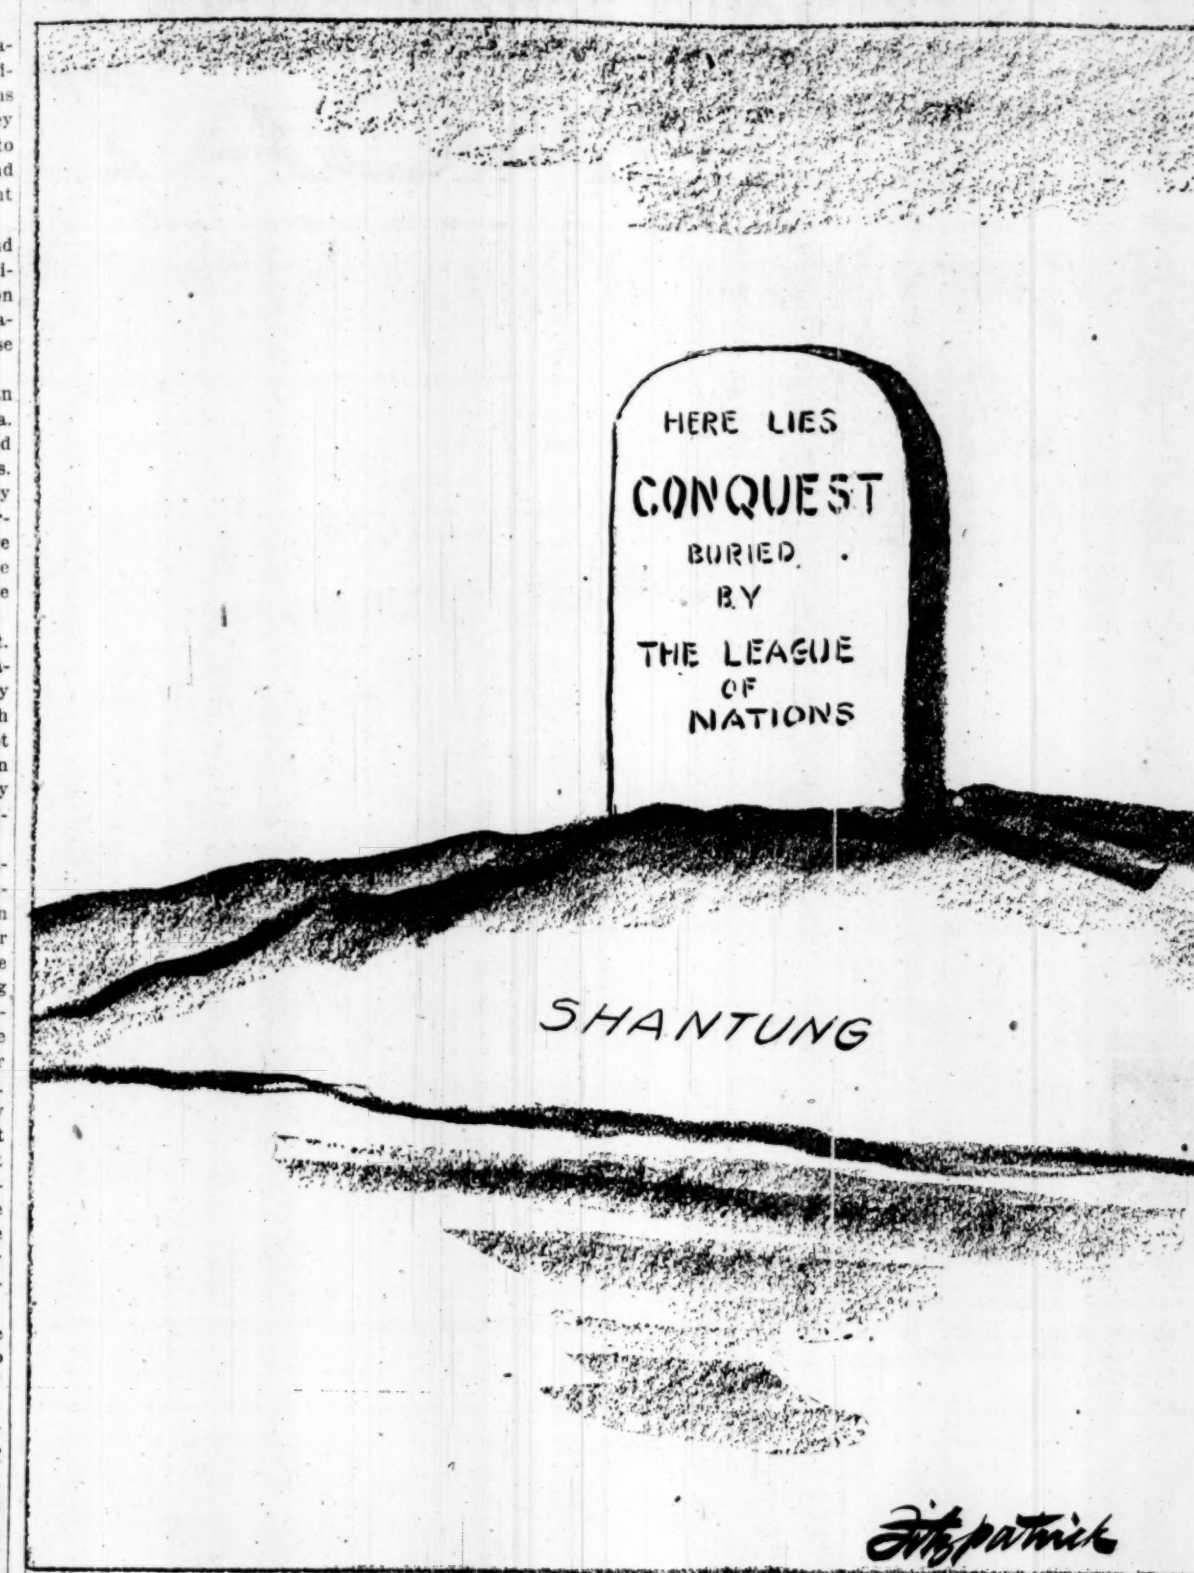

If Mr. Ford wins his senatorial contest with Senator Newberry, the United States Senate will gain a wonderful producer of automobiles. The Congressional Record will be enriched with illustrations of new and hitherto undreamt-of uses of words. The history of American statesmanship will be full of fresh "bunk." The question, "Why is a Senator?" will have a richer significance.

WHAT KIND OF PROFIT-SHARING?

Just why the war should have interfered with increase in the number of concerns in this country having profit-sharing plans may be hard to account for. That would seem to be an admirable time for starting such plans. With their unusual profits, employers could afford them. To share such profits with labor would give the producers something worth while.

That, however, the war did check spread of the profit-sharing idea appears from a Sunday Post-Dispatch review covering considerable ground in a discussion of its value in promoting industrial efficiency. At only a little more than 60 concerns of any magnitude is the plan in force at present.

A lesson to be learned from the review is that there is no magic in a name and that any and all profit-sharing schemes, no matter what their details, can not be expected to give results. The plan must not be associated with an intent to combat unionism or with an objectionable paternalism. It must be based on a just division of returns.

BRIGHTENING THE EMPLOYEE.

From the Chicago Tribune.

FURBISHING life for the worker is a worthy enterprise. Only it is barely possible the worker may want to take a hand in it and not merely be the passive object of the brightening process.

Some large employers are beginning to take an interest in the condition of those who work, and this is a fine thing. It ought to be diligently pursued. There should be libraries and concerts and outings and a general improvement in social life. But the employers ought to shy away from the "here, my good man, is a book that will really improve your mind" sort of thing. The good man may or may not want to read the book. He may know better books, in fact.

The fact of the matter is the good man will decide for himself what kind of a book he wants to read or what kind of a concert he wants to hear or where he will take his outing or whether he wants to dance, sing or speak a piece.

The social service idea probably is successful where the subject of the clinic has no choice but to dance or sing or speak in moderate doses, as one takes quinine. But the great American workman who hits the iron when it is hot and gets a fat pay envelope for doing it doesn't want a social prescription requiring him to take his recreation with scientific precision.

The idea to be maintained, if there is anything to be said on the subject of personal liberty as applied to an industrious and productive worker, is that of co-operation as between employer and employee. The Lady Bountiful style of big employer is going out of vogue. He no longer is a distributor of largess. The head of a large concern is not there by divine right to exercise a providential authority over the help, but because, presumably, he is efficient. The workers are interested in knowing that he is efficient because upon the prosperity of the institution depends their own prosperity. If the management is diligent and the workers diligent there is prosperity for all. It is no feudal arrangement wherein the boss disposes kindly favors in return for patient allegiance.

The secret of future prosperity lies in co-operation of two kinds of workers, the executives and the artisans; two hands, each knowing what the other does. By that means increased profit will argue increased wages; increased wages will argue increased production; a sliding scale that can be understood.

Make life brighter by all means. But let the workers in on it or they may not fancy it and it will all have to be done over again.

JUST A MINUTE

Written for the POST-DISPATCH by Clark McAdams

JUST A MINUTE IN WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—People down here seem to feel about the United States Senate pretty much as we feel about it at home. They smile, as if its antics amused them. Maybe there is some place in this country where the Senate has friends, but where is it? Somebody asked me if Senator Reed had any sympathizers in Missouri. I told him I didn't know of any, but reminded him that Missouri is a big state.

The trouble with the Senate is not hard to diagnose. It lacks leadership. There are no leaders in the Senate. There is only a party organization, which is a very different thing. Somebody said it was felt that when Mr. Root came down here he would get the Senate straightened out, but he took one look at it and fled. It was past leading out of the mess into which it has gotten itself. Moses, with all his skill at leading humankind out of a wilderness, would not risk his reputation here. Xenophon, with almost a divine instinct for an exit somewhere, would not be caught on this side of the Potomac. It is denied here by people who don't care for the President that he has the Senate beaten. They say the Senate had beaten itself before he got here.

Washington wants the peace treaty ratified and the incident forgotten. That is, so I am told, what the country wants. The country is bringing pressure to bear upon Washington. It is said that the pressure from New York is especially strong here. New York has to have money, and it can't make any money out of a Senatorial debate. The railroads, so it is whispered, are also for getting the thing over with. They want the railroad question to be taken up. Nobody can think about the railroads and the King of Hedjaz at the same time. Look out for the end. It is going to come suddenly.

An amusing feature of the league of nations debate is that almost the entire correspondence known to come to Washington on the subject is received by Senators Reed and Borah. While the country is silent so far as letter-writing to one's Senator goes—and silence in this way is said by old-timers around the Capitol to mean that the people are for it—cranks everywhere have arisen and are writing Reed and Borah. Their correspondence is voluminous. It is not just what they would care to have it, perhaps, but it is about all the correspondence anybody is getting. The habitual letter-writing crank has let himself go in great shape on the league of nations. It is the first thing he has had up that entirely matches the horizon of his interest. He has a universal mind, and this is a universal theme. Ordinarily he prostitutes his talent to the consideration of local subjects. These epistles usually go to the local paper, and their common end is the waste basket. This is different. Here is something cosmic, and it is words at last the cosmic mind. It is presumed that neither Reed nor Borah will read very many of these letters in the course of the league of nations debate in the Senate. They are mostly from persons of whom they never heard, and the characteristic thing about them is incoherence. There is an explanation here for the frequency with which a letter-writing crank writes something observed by everyone who has come within the range of fire of these people. The explanation is that the crank, after he has mailed his letter, fears that he has not quite made himself plain. He therefore writes again hurriedly. That keeps him everlastingly at it.

It is said that wartime prohibition would have been ended off by Congress had the friends of liquor followed the advice of Uncle Remus and "lay low." As it turned out, they went after the members of Congress pell-mell—a poll even was taken—and no end of Congressmen who would have been glad to avail themselves of the President's suggestion found themselves hurled into the dry column by protests from home.

There is a good deal of secret grieving here over what happened, for there is a real sentiment in Congress for removal of the wartime ban before constitutional prohibition from any other source. It was bad psychology upon the part of the wets, so I am told. As a matter of fact, there isn't a psychologist among the wets. They don't know the psychological moment from any other moment, and their inability to make that distinction has cost them their business. There is plenty of cursing over this faux pas in this afflicted place, and not many people around the capitol are hopeful of anything being done before the lid goes on.

We are told that Robert Chambers has reverted without warning to his earlier style of writing. Without warning, would you say? Had anybody kept on reading his books?

A book has been written about Secretary Daniels, and it includes among other nice things people have said about him the assurance of the late Admiral Dewey that Mr. Daniels is the best Secretary the navy has had in our time. Now if Mr. Burleson could somehow make good, the President's Cabinet might be itself again.

Did Senator Reed have to go to Georgia to make somebody believe that there is a color scheme in the league of nations?

The future of Lenin and Trotsky seems to lie in vaudeville.

The low rakish building in which the dollar-a-year men died are still standing in Washington. They remain a grim reminder of war's horrors. There is a watchman stationed at the door of each, probably for the purpose of keeping investigating committees out of them. That was a type of building for Washington! The Washington Monument is the only structure in Washington which confesses the climate.

A sign in Washington:
 Soft drinks on ice of all kinds.

How many kinds are there?

President Introduces New Policy by Sending for Senator Chamberlain

Oregon Member Smiling When He Leaves Conference—Expression by Senate on Shantung Believed to Be Certain.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE,
 A Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, July 17.—President Wilson took further steps yesterday to overcome recent criticism that he has not consulted the Senate sufficiently on the Shantung question. He invited him to the Capitol to explain points in the treaty or league of nations. Mr. Wilson decided to establish his open-door policy of yesterday and see anybody in Congress who cared to come to the White House. Also the President took the initiative in asking Senators to come to see him.

Republicans and Democrats have been invited. Senators Lodge and Borah will, of course, be among those asked to come. That Mr. Wilson is adopting an attitude of letting bygones be bygones was demonstrated when he sent for Senator Chamberlain of Oregon, with whom he had a controversy a year ago about military affairs that stirred the country. It was recalled, too, that the President on his visit to the Capitol in March was smiling when talking to a number of Senators, but he lost his smile when Chamberlain came along. Today all that is changed or rather erased from the record.

Chamberlain Emerges Smiling.
 The Oregon Senator emerged from his conference with the President wearing a smile.

"Have you buried the hatchet?" inquired somebody.

"I never had any differences with the President," said Chamberlain. "My difference was with the War Department."

The Oregon Senator talked with Mr. Wilson about visiting Portland and the Pacific coast. The President said he wanted to go there, but hadn't definitely mapped out the itinerary.

"There isn't any doubt in my mind that the whole Pacific coast," said Senator Chamberlain, "wants the treaty and league ratified."

"How about California?" was asked.

"I rather imagine if true of California, too. I have many friends in California," said the Oregon Senator. "The Pacific Coast wants business throughout the world regard as equally as possible and the treaty ratified."

If there was anything upon which criticism was fundamental it was not so much, Senator Chamberlain thought, as the Shantung question, as the Irish question. AS A MATTER OF FACT President Wilson is in position of defending the whole treaty and league of nations, when he realizes and the same time there is much merit in some of the criticisms of the document which are being made in the Senate.

Many of the decisions of the peace conference have been upon expediency. It is this feature of the situation which Mr. Wilson is explaining to Senators in the private conference at the White House.

Shantung a Weak Point.
 It is true for instance, that one of the weakest points in the whole peace treaty is the transfer to Japan of German rights in Shantung. The President has told a number of Senators that it was essential to heed Japan's request for German rights. Otherwise Japan would have left the peace conference and the natural consequences—an alliance with Germany and reactionary elements in Russia, was not lost upon the conference. Senator Norris of Nebraska, has asked for documents purporting to show that Japan and Germany were in negotiations during the progress of the war. The purpose of his remarks is to show that Japan was not so faithful an ally as is supposed and that she ought not to have been rewarded at the expense of China. It is true there were efforts made through roundabout diplomatic channels by Germany to fear Japan from her association with the Entente. But it is also true that the Japanese Government never encouraged the negotiations and upon one occasion publically revealed German intrigues.

There were on the other hand militarist sections of Japanese public opinion friendly to Germany, who for political reasons were constantly assailing the Japanese Government's friendship for the allies and insisting Germany's efforts in the war. Pro-German sections of public opinion, it is contended, however, were present in nearly all of the allied countries, including the United States.

But while Mr. Wilson argues that Japan is merely receiving rights which Germany previously exercised in Shantung and that but for the war there would never have been any change in the status of those rights, it is evident that acceptance of the Japanese demand for Shantung on penalty of her refusal to adhere to the league of nations and peace treaty has produced an unfavorable impression even among the President's most ardent supporters. The President believes that the league of nations will present opportunities of revision of the Shantung settlement, but it would benefit Anglo-Japanese relations far more if Japan today were to announce definitely the time when she would return to China the rights of nations and peace treaty, or if she would negotiate an agreement with China which would enable the latter to sign the peace treaty.

Voluntary Action Hoped For.
 Some voluntary action by Japan is confidently hoped for by friends of Japan lest the excellent progress toward close relations which began with the coming of the Ishii Mission suffer as a consequence of the revision of the Shantung settlement. The American Mission urged the Japanese delegates to issue some statement on the subject before President Wilson left Paris, but the suggestion was not fruitful of results.

Perhaps when Japan herself realizes the extent of the damage being done here by the present controversy a statement of her intentions with respect to Shantung will be issued. Whether it will come in time to head off a joint resolution by the Senate irrespective of the peace treaty denouncing the Shantung settlement and urging that the league of nations make the revision a matter of immediate consideration is hard to foretell. Certainly the temper of the Senate is such that even though the league of nations and peace treaty may be ratified, an expression of immediate consideration seems inevitable.

PROGRAM ANNOUNCED FOR COURSE IN CITIZENSHIP

Equal Suffrage League Will Conduct School Next Week and Organize Women Voters.

The St. Louis Equal Suffrage League announced today the program of the course of instruction at the Citizenship School, to be held under the auspices of the league, from July 21 to July 25, inclusive, at the Monday Club rooms, Maple and Cedar streets, between Gravois and Olive.

BILL TO REDUCE LIVING COST IS BEFORE FRENCH DEPUTIES

Measure Places Heavy Penalties on Speculation; Cheaper Food to Be Provided.

PARIS, July 17.—The Minister of Justice has introduced in the Chamber of Deputies the Government's bill intended to reduce the cost of living, demanding its immediate discussion. The previous law against speculation included a clause by which it was to expire three months after the cessation of hostilities. In the bill this clause is now prolonged to three years and the penalties increased.

Speculation may be punished by imprisonment from two months to two years and a fine of from $50 to 50,000 francs. If it affects food, drinks, heat, clothes or shoes the prison term is raised to three years and the fine to 100,000 francs. The penalties may be further raised to five years imprisonment and 200,000 francs fine if the merchandise is not such as the accused person regularly deals in.

Four definite measures were decided upon by the Cabinet. Henri Roy, a Deputy, was appointed as "commissioner to execute the ideas."

Selling goods in Paris will be debilitated in number and others will be established in other centers of population. Cheap restaurants to supply meals at fixed prices will be started. All war stocks of foodstuffs will be sold to the public. A special service will seek to curb illicit speculation in foodstuffs.

Ellis Island Denies Charges.

NEW YORK, July 17.—Frederic C. Howe, Commissioner of Immigration at Ellis Island has issued a statement denying the charges of the New York Bureau of Legal Advice that Margaret and Jeannette Roy, Scotch sisters awaiting deportation as undesirable aliens, as the result of I. W. W. activities in Seattle, had been ill treated at the island.

The girls were assigned to a certain ship, but it was found to be a cattle ship, he said, and later they were put on another ship.

Girl He Left Behind Him Forgotten by the Doughboy for the French Mam'selle?

Thousand American Soldiers Have Found Brides in Land of Love and War—French Wife Never Stops Trying to Please Her Husband, Explains Mlle. Caubet.

By Zoe Beckley.

ATEST dispatches from Paris state that American doughboys are marrying French girls at a rate that threatens to deplete the stock of mam'selles by 15,000 or so. More than 10,000 soldiers' marriages have taken place already, with no abatement in sight.

At the weekly pictorials of the movies we see them, always a petite and smiling bride, happy in her satins and orange flowers. Always a stalwart bridegroom, grinning confidently above his khaki tunic. And we are frightened. We ask: "Is the Great American Soldier losing his perfect ideal of the Great American Girl? Or is he so homesick for her he grasps in gratitude the first kind feminine hand that meets his?" Are American styles in wives to be seriously rivaled by the fascinating French importation, even as our styles in frocks and millinery? Why? And why?

Answers swarm about us in an ever-rising tide.

"French girls are better cooks," whispers our unromantic friend, the band.

French girls show the subtle arts of pleasing men," says a husband being happily wedded to an American woman, stands as living evidence of his claim.

"It's just the novelty," explains a former navy officer. "French methods of charming are so different. A fellow finds it amusing to am after instead of doing the thing himself."

These international marriages," as the pessimist, "are mistakes. They come to settle down to find their viewpoints are too different."

The returned war correspondent quietly in, puffing his pipe, blowing thoughtful rings:

"I'm not so sure," he argues. "There's something mighty comfortable about the middle-class French home. I was billeted in one month, and it was a revelation to the hundred ways that French found to make her husband comfortable."

"Comfort!" we snap. "The American can make himself comfortable enough without a wife. American invention does it for him. American middle-class life fairly brims with comfort. It's a comfort the American man wants. Is such girl more companionable than an American one?"

The war correspondent remains thoughtful a moment, then he backs with this cryptic remark:

"Well, there's this about it: A wife doesn't stop trying. She pleads as we might, the war correspondent will elucidate no further. It takes the searchlight of a French woman's knowledge to find his meaning.

It is Suzanne Caubet, very slim and young, but with the philosophy which makes the sister of France a merry comrade and mistress of an admiring crowd of admirers at 80.

Mlle. Caubet, moreover, is a goddess of Mme. Sarah Bernhardt, has lived with her in Paris home for years, and learned from that supreme artist not only the craft of stage but much of the art of life. Immediate (she is only 19) is to be as soon as a member of the new Parisian, which is to begin a new era of typical French entertainment at what is now the Belmont in New York, in October.

"I'll tell you," obliges Mlle. Caubet, musical English with a trill of French to trim it here and there, "that war correspondent means French girl not stop trying, once married."

The French girl knows that to

THE ROOM WITH THE TASSELS

Author of "The Bride of a Moment," "Faulkner's Folly," Etc.

"I AGREE," said Uncle Gil and Verne weren't going, though. He's a dictatorial old chap, though a good sport, and as to Verne, I don't think it's the right place for a flapper."

"Oh, it won't hurt the kiddie. She's a mighty sensible little piece and she's ready to eat up experiences. She may as well with her own people."

"That's just it. She's lived nearly all her life alone with Uncle, and he isn't enough woman for her. She ought to have a woman to look after her, now she's out of school."

"Well, what's the matter with Milly? For this trip at least, Milly loves the little girl, and will have a good influence over her."

"That's right as rain, but I'm not sure Eve Carnforth is desirable company for Verne."

"Oh, Eve isn't a bad sort. And with her strict Uncle, and you and Milly and me to look after the child, Eve can't do much to counteract."

"She probably won't do anything. It's all right, Wynne. Now shall we decide to take this Montgomery place?"

"Oh, no, we can't decide positively. I'm pretty sure we shall take it, but I think we ought to call a confab of the whole bunch to discuss it."

Meantime, Eve Carnforth was talking it over with Milly Landon.

"I adore the plan," Eve said, "except your insistence on taking Norma Cameron. I don't like her, Milly, and you know it."

"Now, Eve, cunnin' little chubbie child, don't let the greeny-veined monster claim you for his own. You know perfectly well, Milly, and you know it."

"Why, Milly Landon! What nonsense! I don't care two cents for Rudolph Braye."

"Oh, I don't mean romantically, but I do know you want to be top of the psychic heap, up there, and you think little Norma will get ahead of you in phantasmagoria, or whatever you call it."

"No, it isn't that; but Norma does think she knows it all and she puts on such airs about her clairvoyance, and calls herself a sensitive and all that."

"Well, let her. You can hold your own; and, too, Eve, if we carry out this scheme, I think we ought all to pull together, and help each other. And we can't do that if there's antagonism or rivalry. Now, can we?"

And if you're in earnest, as you've always insisted you are, you ought to be glad of any help Norma can give. She feels that way about you. When I asked her to go she was delighted that you were to be in the party, because, she said, you were so interested and so well up in all these things we're going to discover."

"I suppose I am silly. I may as well confess I'm not sure of Norma. She wouldn't be above pretending she heard or saw things, even if she didn't."

"Fiddlesticks! There won't be any pretending! Or if there is, it'll be discovered right straight off. Why, Wynne, she's terribly in earnest about having it all fair and square, I mean—and so is the professor, and I'd like to see anyone fool Gilford Bruce! And little Verne is a real wide-awake. There won't be anything doing that that child doesn't know of, if it's fraud or foolery. Don't you believe it, my dear, Norma Cameron won't pull any wool over anybody's eyes in our party. No, siree!"

The crowd came together that night to discuss the house, that had been offered, and to come to a decision.

Norma Cameron was present, and her manner and appearance were so exactly opposite to those of Eve Carnforth, that it was small wonder the girls were not congenial.

Norma was blonde, and had what her friends called a seraphic countenance, and her enemies a doll-face. For Norma had enemies. She was prominent in war relief work and public charities of many kinds, and it is seldom possible for such a one to go through the world entirely peaceably. But all conceded that her doll-face was a very pretty one, and few who criticized it would not have been glad to wear it.

Her golden hair was softly curly, and her sky-blue eyes big and expressive. But her complexion was her greatest beauty; soft as a rose petal, the pink and white were so delicately blended as to make a new observer suspect art's assistance. A second glance, however, removed all such suspicion, for no hare's foot could ever have produced that degree of perfection. Her softly rounded chin, and creamy throat were exquisitely molded, and her usual expression was gentle and amiable.

But Norma was no namby-pamby character, and her eyes could turn to deep violet, and her pink cheeks flush rosily if she ran up against injustices or meanness. That was why her career of philanthropy was not always a serene path, for she never hesitated to speak her mind, and her mind was of a positive type.

Always outspoken, though, was Norma. No slyness or deceit marked her procedure, never did she say behind any one's back what she would not say to his face.

And this was the principal reason why Norma and Eve could never hit it off. For Eve frequently carried tales, and sometimes denied them later. Milly, however, was friends with both girls, and secretly hoped that if they could all get away together, the two warring natures might react on each other for good. Then, too, both were immensely interested in psychics, and if they were rivals in this, so much better chance for all concerned, to find out the things they were to look for.

"I think," said Norma, at the confab, "it would be better for two of the crowd, say, Mr. and Mrs. Landon, to go up first and look at the house. It sounds fine, but it may be impossible. So, why get us all up there, only to come home again?"

"Oh, don't think so," said Eve, promptly, while Milly giggled to hear the two begin to disagree at once. "I think it would be a lot more fun for us all to go and see it for the first time together. Then, if it isn't lively, we can all we back, but we shall have had a sort of picnic out of it, at least."

"Yes, I think that, too!" put in Verne, who was beside herself with joy at the outlook. "Oh, what a gorgeous party it will be! Do we go in the train, or motors or what?"

"Flush, Verne," said Mrs. Landon, "we haven't decided to go at all, yet. Where is this place, Landon?"

The post-office is East Dryden. The house is about a mile further up the mountain. I fancy it's a picturesque sort of a place, though with few modern appointments. Fisher got a little more data, somehow, and he says it's a hodge-podge old pile, as to architecture, as it's been rebuilt, or added to several times. But I don't care about all that. I mean if we don't like the appointments we needn't stay. What I want is the story. Shall we take the place, or go on a wild goose chase entirely?"

"Oh, let's start off without knowing anything about it," and old Mrs. Bruce's eyes twinkled like a boy's at thought of an escapade.

"Good for you, Uncle!" and Verne shouted with glee. "I didn't know you were such an old top, did you, Cousin Rudolph?"

"Well, I've known him longer than you have, Flapper, and I'm not so surprised at his wanting a sporting proposition. But, I say, Milly, if we're going to take Tracy, you people ought to see him and give him the once over first. Maybe you won't like him at all."

"Oh, your friends are sure to be our friends, Rudolph," said Landon. "but telephone him to run up here, can't you? It's only fair to let him in on the planning."

Plain United States Map Made From Photographs.

EVERY square inch of the surface of the United States will be in the preparation of a topographical map of the country, which is being planned, according to an announcement in the Popular Mechanics Magazine. The photographs will be pieced together and the mosaic will show every detail. This sort of a map is considered necessary by aviators before full use of the airplane will be possible. No map in existence takes in all that the proposed photographic map would show.

THE SANDMAN STORY FOR TONIGHT

By MRS. F. A. WALKER.

Mrs. Nannie Goes Shopping

MRS. NANNIE GOAT one morning told her family she was going shopping over to Mr.
Fox's store. She needed some woolen gloves for the cold weather.

Mrs. Nannie was a very proud creature, and when she dressed up in her green velvet bonnet with ribbons tied under her chin, she held her head very high.

Her high-heeled boots tapped along the road as she went, and everybody turned around to look at the stylish Mrs. Nannie.

When she reached Mr. Fox's store she was standing in the door and greeted her with a smile, for Mr. Fox was a very clever storekeeper, and prided himself on always saying the right thing to each customer.

"You can catch more customers with smiles than with frowns," was his motto; and a good one it had always proved to be, for he had all the trade for miles around.

But that morning Mr. Fox's mind was not strictly on his business, or he never would have made such a terrible remark to Mrs. Nannie. Mr.
Fox was thinking of a fine fat turkey he saw as he came along that morning to his store, and that if he could manage it he intended to get it that night on his own home.

So when Mrs. Nannie Goat came up the steps he was still thinking of the bird, but he smiled and bowed, and asked what he could do to serve her.

"I have a nice line of green things," he said, "Even your exquisite taste. I am sure, Mrs. Nannie, will agree to this."

"I am not in need of green things," answered Mrs. Nannie, with a shake of her head, as she thought of her

Is Rickey Trying to Strengthen His Cards by Discarding an "Ace" and Drawing a Deuce?

Shocker, Huggins' Discard, Again Beats Yanks, Their Eighth Defeat in 10 Games

Slipping Second-Place Club Is Only 3½ Laps Ahead of the Browns—Leading Pitcher, Winner of 10 Straight in East, Vanquished in Every Western Start This Trip.

URBAN SHOCKER and Joe Geddon, members of the Browns, who were sent here by Miller Huggins in the trade which shifted Derrill Pratt to New York in the winter of 1917, yesterday played the leading roles in the Browns' 5-0 victory over the Yankees in a four-game series. The conquest kept the Burkenmen within half a game of fourth place, the Tigers also winning.

Shocker pitched his best game of the season, in blanking the New Yorkers, yielding only four hits, two of them coming in the ninth. He also whiffed six batters. Shocker also played an important part on the offense as he scored the first run of the season. He had scored in the first game of the series, but had failed to score a run off him.

Shocker stopped the crowd of Huggins yesterday it was his first victory since he was traded to St. Louis. Two of the victories were shutouts, and in the last 20 innings, the Yankees have failed to score a run off him.

Starting May 25, the right-hander gained a 4-5 victory over the New York men at Sportsman's Park. "In this battle he yielded 10 safeties, walked two and fanned three. However, since then the Yanks have made only nine hits off him in 18 frames. June 15 he blanked them 1-0 with five hits and yesterday he outdug them with four safeties.

Only One Yankee Reached Third. So effectively did Shocker pitch yesterday that only one alien, Fawcett in the final round, reached third base. In all, only eight of Huggins' charges saw first base, three of these getting there by forcing mates. In six of the nine rounds only one Yankee reached base. Burke's star, the men to reach base against Shocker were as follows:

First inning: Pipp singled, but was doubled stealing when Baker fanned.

Second inning: Hannah walked, was forced by Shawkey, who was forced by Pipp.

Ninth inning: Fawcett, up for Shawkey, bunted safely; Peck singled. Pipp forced Peck, Fawcett reaching third.

It was only in the ninth round that Shocker was in any danger of being scored upon. In this round the visitors had men on first and third with one out, but Baker flied to Severid, while Lewis flied to Severid, after sending a line foul against the left field pavilion.

Shocker Owns Five Shutouts. The victory for Shocker yesterday was his eighth of the season. He has been beaten six times. However, in 12 innings he has pitched 25 earned runs, an average of 1.89 per game. Five of his conquests have come via the shutout route, being as follows: May 15, Athletics, 2-0; May 21, Washington, 1-0; June 7, Washington, 3-0; June 15, New York, 1-0; July 16, New York, 5-0.

The fatal base on balls caused the downfall of Bob Shawkey, Huggins' "ace" right-hander, yesterday. Prior to the team's Western trip had won 10 straight. The defeat yesterday was his third in a row. After retiring eight straight batters, Shawkey lost control and passed Shocker. Brunkle and Geddon followed with hits and the local pitcher tallied. Burke's men added another run in the fourth, when Slater opened with a single was sacrificed to second and tallied on Smith's triple. The same trio produced a marker in the sixth, when Slater doubled, and Smith, when both Williams and Smith were thrown out by Pratt.

Severid's Double Scores Two. Just to make it safe, the Browns pover two more in the eighth. With two gone, Smith singled and Gerber walked, while Severid sent the pair over with a long double to center.

The victory yesterday was the fourth in a season gained by the Browns over the men of Huggins at the local park. The record for the campaign is 5-3 in favor of Burke's charges. Incidentally, the defeat suffered by the New Yorkers, yesterday, was the eighth in 10 starts on the present Western trip.

While the New Yorkers are at present in second place they are only three and one-half games ahead of the Browns, who are fifth.

DEMPSEY SIGNS TO BOX FRANK MORAN ANY TIME, PITTSBURGER VERY COY

PITTSBURG, Pa., July 17.—Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion of the world, has notified Matchmaker Routley of the Keystone Athletic Club of this city that he would box Frank Moran any time a match with the latter was concluded, regardless of any theatrical or circus engagements he may have.

All Matt Dempsey asked was sufficient time in which to get into condition.

Matchmaker Routley stated yesterday that he already had Dempsey's signature to a contract to box Moran, but that the latter had not as yet agreed to the match.

The principal objection on the part of Moran is his idea that he ought to draw better in New York even though Pittsburgh is his former home. Routley stated yesterday that nothing would be left undone to bring the men together here.

Charles Rademacher, who, in 1911, led the St. Louis University football eleven to its first victory in recent years over the Washington University, will again assume his coaching duties at the Grand avenue institution, according to announcement by the Athletic Board.

In the summer of 1918 Rademacher was in the athletic department by Ernest Quigley of St. Mary's, Kan. Since Rademacher's return to this country the Billiken authorities were undecided whether he or Quigley should be retained.

Father H. A. Hermans, director of athletics at St. Louis University, communicated with the members of the athletic directorate last week and learned they were practically unanimous in favor of Rademacher. They will meet next week to formally endorse him.

Rademacher will be assisted in his duties by Jack Connor, who captured the eleven that Rademacher coached. Connor is thoroughly acquainted with the ex-Maroon's style of play and will be able to handle the back field men. He will also have charge of the freshmen.

Connor is still putting in 1917 and will probably have charge of the two artists.

Rademacher will be asked to report about Sept. 15, in order to start work-outs with the early arrivals. The practice and game play will be held at the local school announcing that he has taken up the coaching duties at Valparaiso (Ind.) University. This school is starting intercollegiate athletics, after a strict intra-mural policy of the past few years. Chop Stroke Used by Ranking Stars in Net Tourney

Change in Style of Play Noted Among Tennis Luminaries on Chicago Clay Courts.

MISS GOULD WINS MATCH Defeats First Round Opponent, 6-0, 6-0—Haase and Brown Capture Doubles Match.

By DAVISON OBEAR, Secretary St. Louis Tennis Association.

CHICAGO, July 17.—The change in the style of play of a number of the national ranking stars is one of the outstanding features of the National Clay Court tournament being held here this week.

With the exception of William M. Johnston, all of these players are using a chop stroke during the greater part of their matches. This stroke is very effective here on account of the wind.

During the last two days the wind has been blowing at a high rate, causing worry to those who use a smashing top spin or Lawford stroke.

Three years ago the top spin stroke was at its height, and was used at all times by McLaughlin, Griffin, Davis, Armstrong, Williams and other leading exponents of the game.

While this stroke is not extinct by any means, it is being used less than before.

William T. Tilden, present holder of the clay court title, has almost a perfect execution of the chop stroke and he used it consistently to gain needed points in a game. However, he also continued to use the forearm top spin drive.

With a combination of these strokes he is an exceptionally hard man to beat. He usually forces his opponent to the back court with his smashing drive, then comes to the net and with a cross-court chop drops the ball out of reach.

Tilden is graceful Player. Tilden is the most graceful player of any entered in the event here. He surprised many by defeating Sam Richey yesterday.

Those who know the Cardinal manager are confident McGraw has not put one over on him. However, they are loath to believe he expects to accomplish with the unfortunate Richey in short order what all the resources of the New York club, all the muscle experts available and all the patience of McGraw, moved by a sentimental attraction for Schupp, failed to accomplish.

The Giants are going farther, of course. They have no use for four catchers such as Snyder, Gonzales, May and Smith. There are a number of rumors in the air and it is probable that some important deal will be made within the next few days.

The Cubs open a series in New York today and a trade is possible with the faded Phillies this afternoon.

Moore Favored to Beat Wilde, if Go Lasts 20 Rounds

Tonight's International Ring Contest in London Attracts Wide Attention.

EUGENE CORRI REFEREE

Noted English Official Will Start Contest at About 3 P. M., St. Louis Time.

LONDON, Eng., July 17.—Jimmy Wilde, the second ring champion of Pontypridd, Wales, has given to the world, and T. Wilson "Pal" Moore, a claimant of the American bantamweight championship honors, will fight their long-talked-of 20-round contest here tonight.

The managers of the men have agreed to a weight of 116 pounds, at which figure Moore can be at his best, while Wilde will doubtless strip for a 120 about seven pounds less than this figure.

The American boy has been guaranteed $15,000 and his expenses for his share, win, lose or draw. The bout will be refereed by Eugene Corri of the London Sporting Club, who is conceded to be the best and fairest of the British officials.

Owing to the fact that Wilde will be fighting on his own health to night, he has been made a slight favorite in the advance betting. No Moore money in considerable sums has made its appearance, notwithstanding the fact that the British judges awarded the decision to the American—to the astonishment and dismay of a large pro-British attendance.

This bout was followed by so much acrimonious discussion as to the correctness of the verdict that the men were subsequently re-matched.

Wilde Owns a "Kayo" Punch. Wilde is a popular idol here. Starting his ring career he weighed 98 pounds and had floored practically all opposition up to the featherweight limit before being inducted into the British army.

Frank looking, he owns a powerful punch and is clever as well. His first international clash was against Young Rosner, an American, whom he stopped in short order.

He next opposed Joe Demelfi, the "Young Zulu Kid," of Brooklyn, who gave him a fiercer battle, but eventually succumbed in eleven rounds.

Subsequently he met Joe Lyons, a hard hitting husky New York bantam.

Wilde conceded weight to Lynch. He beat the Yankee in four rounds. Later on he went 15 rounds against the American and gained a dubious decision over him.

MORE TRUTH THAN POETRY
By James J. Montague.

Next:
The job is done: the treaty has been signed.
And soon the various world disturbing rulers—
The Kaisers, Sultans, and their foolish kind—
Will be en route to sundry jails and coolers
And Bill and Abdul, from their crowns and thrones,
And all their worldly goods forever parted,
Are sitting round emitting bitter moans
And tearfully repenting what they started.
They look at things tonight,
These rulers do—in quite a different light.

They fancied once that royal blood and birth
Backed up by armies—carefully directed—
Gave them the right to conquer all the earth.
Removing all the people who objected.
They thought that war, and killing and the like
Would prove a nice, amusing recreation.
And—later—when they centered down the pike
We all would bow in humble adoration.
It didn't take them long,
However, to find out that they were wrong.

There's still Lenin—he still is dreaming dreams.
He still is hoping hard for world dominion.
To be the boss of all creation seems
An easy thing to be, in his opinion,
And though he knows how other rulers' hopes
Within the last few bloody years have faded,
He fondly fancies that he knows the ropes,
And will not make the same mistakes that they did.
But he'll soon have his turn
To learn the lesson that they all must learn!
